WORTHY ASSOCIATION ASKING FOR HELP

Some Reasons Why the Men and Women Should Give It Support

The Y. W. C. A. commends itself to the public because it has a very practical share in the community life of the town.
It is located in the corner of the block, and is open all the time to women and girls who may wish to use it as a rest room, lunch room, or reading room.
It is a pleasant and "homey" place

COLORED BOY CHUM TO BE SUNDAY SCHOOL BABY'S VALET AND PROTECTOR THROUGH LIFE

Vincent Walsh McLean and John Winbush, Jr.

What seems most remarkable to sojourners at Palm Beach, Florida, is the spectacle of John Winbush, Jr., a colored boy of five, being treated as one of the family of Mrs. E. R. McLean of Washington, who is spending the winter at the southern resort. The McLeans have entered into an arrangement with the parents of the colored boy, whereby they are to have the custody of the youngster for ten years, when he will become the valet and protector of Vincent, who is heir to the mighty Walsh and McLean fortunes. The photograph shows the young multimillionaire heir and his future valet.

DANCE AND ENTERTAINMENT

Dreadnought Lodge No. 210, L. O. L. gave a very successful dance and entertainment at the Odd Fellows hall last night. The program commenced promptly at eight o'clock with the following program:
Piano Solo Mrs. W. Davey
Quartette Messrs. Warrington, Butler and Temby.
Trombone solo Mr. G. Maston
Recitation Mrs. J. Farley
Trombone Duet Messrs. McIntyre and Maston.
Quartette Messrs. Warrington, Butler and Temby.
Following the program an evening of dancing was enjoyed. A rich orchestra furnished the music.

For the girls who live there and is a social center for all girls.
It helps strangers to find rooms, boarding places and employment. It is a club for both women and girls.

School girls have a daily picnic on the lawn and a group of children come every Saturday to play on the grass.

Its rooms are open to the ladies societies of the various churches. The Association deserves the support of the town because its methods are business-like and because it is so largely self-sustaining. The total amount expended in 1912 was, in round numbers, $5,000.00. The receipts from the boarding-home and lunch room were over $5,000.00.

$1200.00 came from a friend in the east and special funds were raised for the playground and for social and educational work. The general public gave only $186.00 in subscriptions during the year.

The Y. W. C. A. should have a more generous support than this from the town itself if it is to continue its work. The association is now asking for subscriptions sufficient to meet the present obligations and to provide for the year 1913.

When the men and women of Bisbee realize that there are 200 girls and women employed in the city—of whom from 150 to 200 are away from home—they will feel the responsibility of contributing to the annual expense so that the Y. W. C. A. may continue its work.
